DEPARTMENT of CORRECTIONAL SERVICES

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONAL SERVICES

STATUTORY AUTHORITY

Nebraska Revised Statutes §83-171 and 83-901 (Reissue 1981) establish the Department of Correctional Services as an independent agency of State Government for the custody, control, study, correctional treatment, training, and rehabilitation of persons committed to the Department so that they may be prepared for lawful and productive community living.

AGENCY PURPOSE, PROGRAMS, AND GOALS

By Statute, the mission of the Nebraska Department of Correctional Services is to provide for the custody, study, care, discipline, training, and the treatment of persons in correctional institutions, to supervise persons committed to the Department on parole, and to develop policies and programs for the correctional treatment and rehabilitation of persons committed to the Department (Nebraska Revised Statutes §83-171 and 83-901, Reissue 1981).

The Committee for the Development of the Statewide Correctional Services Plan of 1974 established the primary goal of corrections in Nebraska to be the successful reintegration of the inmate into the community, through functional and realistic programming, while providing for the protection of society. To assist in fulfilling these functions, LB417 in 1975 created the following divisions within the Department: the Division of Adult Services; the Division of Juvenile Services; the Division of Community-Centered Services; and the Division of Administrative Services. Through this organization, the Department seeks to refine its processes and policies through an ongoing planning framework which focuses on specific areas targeted for improvement during an annual planning cycle. The philosophic framework for all actions planned by the Department is contained in statutory requirements (Revised Statutes of Nebraska §83-171, 181, 182, 183, 901, 924, 927, 932, 936, 939, and 943) and in the primary planning principles found in budget documents over the past several years. These principles are:

1. Reduction of Escapes - Maintain the level of custody required to ensure that individuals under the control of the Department do not escape or abscond thereby jeopardizing persons in free society.

2. Reduction of Criminal Activity - Activities which can be construed to be unlawful or counter to rules and regulations of the Department should be controlled. Activities and programs within the Department shall strive to reduce the frequency of such incidences.

3. Maintenance of Equitable Length of Stay - Inmates should be treated consistently in classification and programming considerations. The Department shall provide a system of gradual reduction of supervision designed to promote positive behavioral change and allow for custody assignment which places inmates in the least restrictive environment while providing appropriate controls.

4. Maintenance of a Low Recidivism Rate - The Department provides the vehicle through which an inmate can make positive changes. Department activity shall attempt to further reduce this rate.

5. To Operate the Department in an Efficient and Effective Manner - The Department has a responsibility to the State's citizens to provide a quality delivery system, utilizing scarce resources as prudently and beneficially as possible.

Major Departmental goals for the fiscal year, from which all facilities, centers, and major programs formulate objectives are outlined below:

87-01: Facility Maintenance and Cleanliness - Continue the Department's efforts to ensure a high standard of cleanliness, hygiene, and safety at all facilities. Improvements in facilities necessary for achievement of this goal will receive high priority.

87-02: Establishment and Maintenance of the Eight Hour Work/Program Day - Of major importance to a properly functioning system is the reduction of inmate idleness and promotion of a work ethic based on acceptable community standards.

87-03: Implementation of a Systematic Reintegration Program from Intake Through Release - The process of rehabilitation should develop a plan designed in the early incarceration period to achieve acceptable ends which facilitate timely movement through the correctional process and into the community with an enhanced chance for success.

87-04: Achievement and Maintenance of Department-Wide Accreditation - The major tool available for the overall evaluation of excellence in a correctional system is the accreditation process developed by the American Correctional Association. The Department has been involved in this process since 1979 and is dedicated to achieving success in accreditation for all facilities, centers, and programs.

87-05: An Upgraded Program of Personnel Recruitment and Development - Efforts will be made to recruit highly qualified people, to develop the abilities of staff once on board and to provide for a career service within the Department.

87-06: Expansion and Maintenance of the Unit Management Concept to all Facilities Other Than Short-Term Housing - To be adopted by all adult facilities to provide follow-up necessary for adequate program planning and preparation for release. Juvenile institutions will base their residential treatment modalities on these concepts also.

87-07: Continued Review and Refinement of the Correctional Tracking System and Data Bank - Designed to provide detailed and quality information to management for decision-making purposes. Refinements in certain areas will be made to improve the utility of information.

87-08: Implementation of a Systematic Program for the Utilization of Volunteers - A unified approach to the use of volunteers will be studied during the next fiscal year. Volunteers are useful in a variety of situations and their participation in the correctional process should be expanded. Procedures for the recruitment, screening, training, and recognition of volunteers should be set in place at all institutions.

HISTORY

Corrections in Nebraska began operations as a territorial prison in a barn-like structure with its first commitment arriving on February 22, 1869. The following year, on March 4, 1870, the Legislature approved the construction of the Nebraska State Penitentiary. The original magnesia limestone structure, capable of housing 375 inmates, became operational in 1876. In 1879, the Nebraska State Legislature passed a law establishing the Nebraska State Reform School for Juvenile Offenders. The first inmate was committed on July 15, 1881. Ten years later, the Girls Industrial School was established by Legislative Act.

During the first two decades of the 1900's, correctional services were expanded, raising adult male and female inmate capacity to 750. In 1920, the Nebraska Center for Women was founded according to Nebraska State Statute, and accepted its first female offender on May 11, 1920. Initially called the Reformatory for Women, the institution was located on a farm in a two-story frame house. In the years that followed, Nebraska's correctional needs continued to grow and existing penal units were enlarged and additional units were opened.

In 1974, pursuant to the provisions of LB563, the Department of Correctional Services was established as a separate agency of state government. Subsequently, the Department has been involved in a decade of rigorous prison reform and rebuilding. Legislative Bills 417, in 1975, and 984, in 1976, began the initial authorization for medium-minimum security facilities and for a receiving center respectively. Today, the Department of Correctional Services provides care, custody, control, and supervision for 2800 individuals in its five adult and two juvenile facilities, two community corrections centers and the adult and juvenile parole programs.

ACCREDITATION

In 1979, the Legislature mandated the Department of Correctional Services to become accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections (now a division of the American Correctional Association). The accreditation process involves coming into compliance with a set of separate and distinct standards developed by nationally recognized correctional professionals and agencies for all correctional operation and program areas.

With the trend continuing regarding increased inmate population and community sentiment strongly in favor of removing the criminal from society, the CAC standards provide for the humane administration and direction of institutional and program care which are paramount in preserving individual rights and responsibilities and, in turn, the ultimate protection of society. The accreditation process supports improved institutional management practices through better organization of policies and procedures and ascertainment of staff compliance with them. The process provides for more effective program evaluation while producing greater effectiveness in programs and operations. Accreditation provides an operational and philosophical base by which the Department can operate. A final benefit of accreditation is that it hopefully provides an enhanced ability to defend legal actions that are lodged by inmates.

The Department of Correctional Services has been dedicated to achieving success in accreditation for all facilities and programs. Since 1979, all facilities/centers/programs have been accredited, and have been working on maintaining compliance levels through the 3 year reaccreditation procedure. The current accreditation status for all facilities/centers/programs is as follows:

Nebraska State Penitentiary - Hearing and accreditation award granted August 10-11, 1985. Current accreditation expires August, 1988; scheduled for reaccreditation in spring of 1988.

Lincoln Correctional Center - Hearing and reaccreditation award granted November 8-9, 1984. Current accreditation expires November, 1987; scheduled for reaccreditation in fall of 1987.

Nebraska Center for Women - Reaccreditation standards compliance audit June 25-27, 1984, with supplemental reaudit on September 7, 1984; hearing and reaccreditation award granted November 8-9, 1984. Current accreditation expires November, 1987; scheduled for reaccreditation in fall of 1987.

Community Corrections - Reorganization of Community Corrections necessitated a temporary withdrawal from the accreditation process. Accreditation audit of the Community Corrections Center-Lincoln is scheduled for late 1988.

Juvenile Parole Program - Reaccreditation standards compliance audit June 1-3, 1987; hearing and reaccreditation award granted July 30, 1987.

Youth Development Center-Kearney - Facility failed audit in August, 1985, but passed supplemental audit conducted in May, 1986; hearing and accreditation award granted on August 9, 1986. Scheduled for reaccreditation audit in the spring of 1989.

Youth Development Center-Geneva - Accreditation standards compliance audit conducted June 29-July 1, 1987; accreditation award to be granted January, 1988.

Omaha Correctional Center - Entered accreditation process in the fall of 1985; initial audit conducted on July 30-August 1, 1986; hearing and accreditation award granted November 7, 1986. Scheduled for reaccreditation audit in fall of 1989.

Adult Parole Program - Reaccreditation standards compliance audit April 6-8, 1987; hearing and reaccreditation award granted July 30, 1987.

RECIDIVISM

Many individuals in prison have been there before, and many will return at some point after their next release. The effectiveness of the criminal justice system is often gauged by the extent to which inmates continue to engage in crime after their release from prison. The rate at which released prisoners return to confinement is termed recidivism. The Department utilizes a standardized definition of recidivism (Admin. Reg. 103.5):

> "Recidivism is measured by criminal acts that result in conviction by a court when committed by legal offenders released from the Nebraska Prison System during a specified base time period who return to the Nebraska System within three years of their release date."

The recidivist rate is the number of convictions for new crimes divided by the number of releases. This rate represents the proportion of inmates who left the Nebraska Prison System during a specified time period who were reincarcerated because of convictions for committing a new offense.

The maintenance and lowering of the recividist rate is one of the planning principles of the Department. The numbers compiled for FY 86-87 show a return to a higher recidivism rate (20.0%) that is reflected in both the male and female categories. This recidivism rate includes parolees who were revoked for felonies. This class of recidivists was not included in previous calculations. It should be noted that the definition, criteria, and method of defining recidivism varies from state to state.

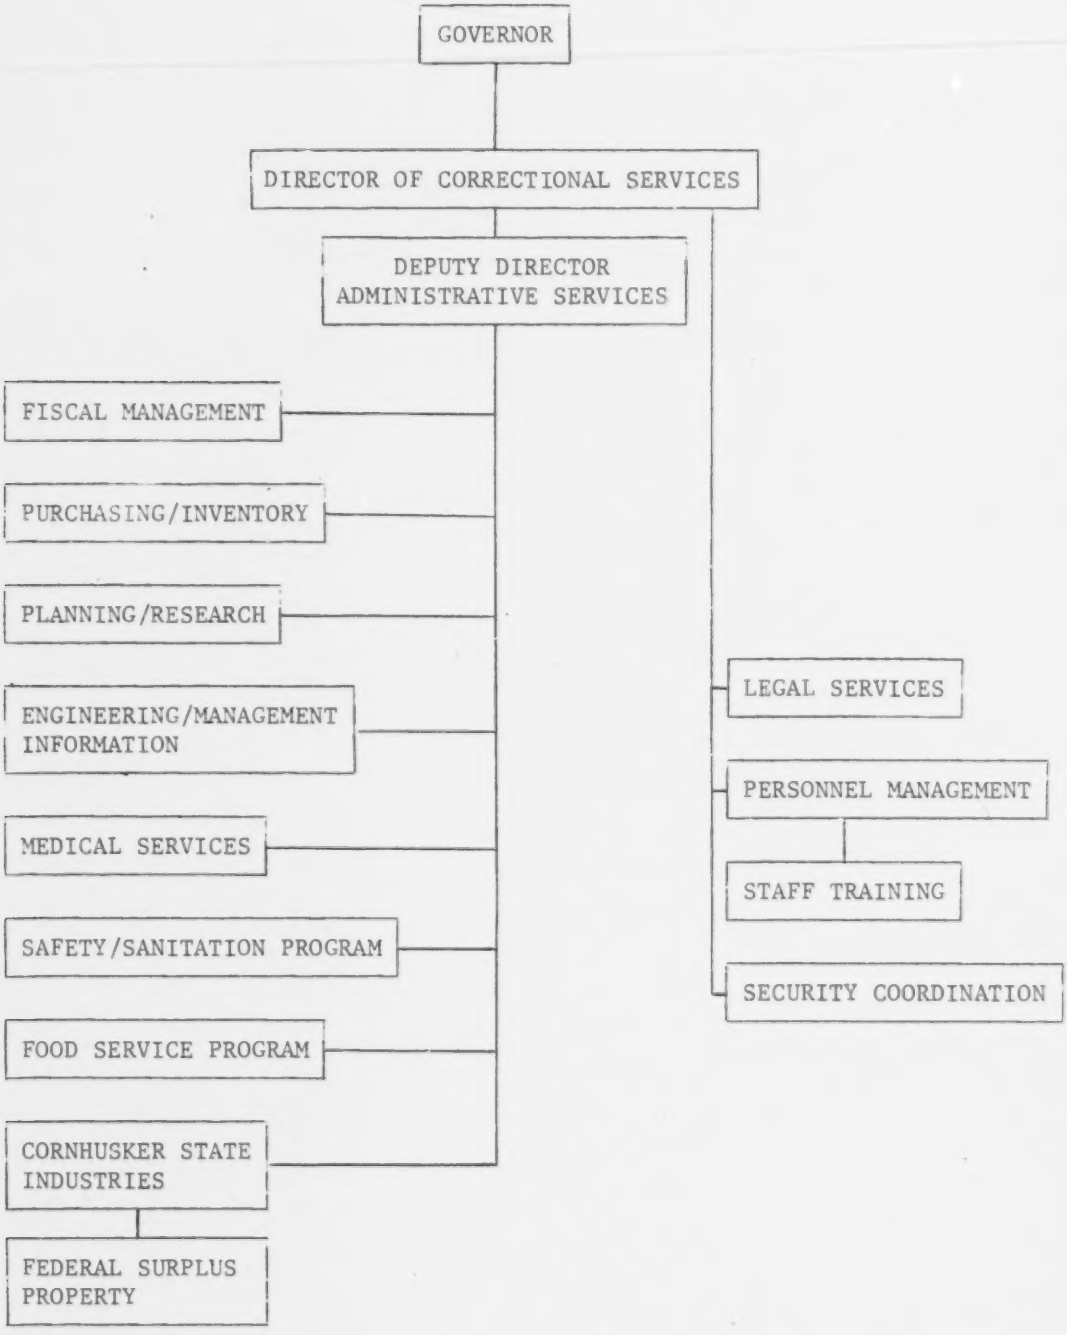
DIVISION OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES



DIVISION OF ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

Established in accordance with Nebraska Revised Statute Section 83-922 (Reissue 1976), the Division of Administrative Services provides assistance and support services to facilities and programs within the Department of Correctional Services.

The mission of the Division is accomplished through four primary goals:

1) Provide timely response to requests for assistance and information;
2) Provide an effective management information system;
3) Provide support services effectively and efficiently; and
4) Provide technical analysis, research, and recommendations for functional improvement.

As illustrated by the organizational chart, the Division is organized into eight functional sections: 1) Fiscal Management, 2) Purchasing and Inventory, 3) Planning/Research, 4) Engineering and Management Information, 5) Medical Services, 6) Safety/Sanitation Program, 7) Food Service Program, 8) Cornhusker State Industries and Federal Surplus Property.

Fiscal Management

Fiscal Management (Central Accounting) is responsible for the coordination of all agency payment submissions and investment of surplus agency funds through the Investment Council. All accounting functions for Lincoln and Omaha based institutions and programs have been centralized. Accounting acts as a clearing center for all expenditure documents and the transfer appropriations for the Department of Correctional Services.

Purchasing and Inventory

Purchasing and Inventory Control is responsible for coordinating the centralized purchasing system and for effecting a more efficient communication and paper flow within the Department. The basic goal is to reduce delays in procurement. Quality control is emphasized in all areas to ensure that supplies are received as ordered. Coordination of volume ordering with other state agencies is carried out where items are compatible.

Planning/Research

The Planning/Research section is responsible for research and information, planning and management, system/program evaluation and monitoring, federal grants administration, the administrative regulation process, and the adult and juvenile accreditation process. The staff provides direction, assistance, and monitors these areas throughout the adult and juvenile facilities/centers/programs and the Department's central office administration.

Engineering and Management Information

This section provides technical and management assistance for construction projects of all sizes from the preliminary planning stage throughout completion and readiness for occupancy. Guidance and assistance for facility/center/program maintenance programs is also provided.

Management information assistance is provided Department-wide with regard to data management, technical expertise, and information retrieval. This includes applications such as CTS, CMS, and personal computer hardware and software.

Medical Services

The primary objective of this component is the provision of health care services through the Department ensuring the maintenance of good health for all inmates. The Department health care program provides a wide range of medical services under the direction of a Health Care Administrator. The diversified professional staff at the four primary facilities includes fifty-four full-time equivalent positions. Two chief medical officers serve within the system; one serves the Nebraska State Penitentiary; while the other serves the Evaluation Unit, the Lincoln Correctional Center, the Nebraska Center for Women, and all Work Release Programs. Medical services provided within the facilities include: Health care records, initial medical screening, comprehensive health care examinations; dental, optometry and pharmacy services, and sick call.

Safety/Sanitation Program

The Department's Safety/Sanitation Officer inspects all adult and juvenile facilities/centers/programs on a periodic basis with regard to identifying and correcting safety hazards and sanitation needs. Staff and inmate/student dining areas, food preparation areas, equipment, and warehouses, water temperatures, fire prevention methods and equipment, toxic and caustic chemical control, mechanical and electrical equipment usage are but some of the areas regularly investigated.

Administrative regulations are developed or updated in order to comply with Commission on Accreditation for Corrections (CAC) standards or any of the numerous state and federal statutes, codes and regulations. The Life Safety Code, OSHA regulations, the National Electrical Code and National Fire Prevention Administration standards are several of the references utilized.

Food Service Program

The goal of the Food Service Section is to maintain acceptable standards of food preparation resulting in a product of high quality served in the most attractive and efficient manner possible. Toward the attainment of this goal, this office provides technical assistance to Food Service Administrators and in-service training for Food Service employees at the adult and juvenile facilities/centers/programs. In cooperation with Health Department officials, sanitation classes are conducted for all Food Service personnel.

Cornhusker State Industries/Federal Surplus Property

Cornhusker State Industries

The Cornhusker State Industries operation engages in the manufacture and sale of a wide variety of products and services produced by the inmates of correctional institutions.

The primary objectives are to provide: 1) Meaningful productive work for inmates; 2) Useful products and services for tax supported and non-profit institutions, State agencies, political sub-divisions and organizations; 3) Job experience to inmates that include good work habits and job attitudes; 4) Fiscal benefit to the state through effective utilization of inmate manpower and resources; and 5) To be self-supporting in its operation.

Federal Surplus

The Federal Surplus Property operation is a self-supporting component that is responsible for the equitable distribution of Federal Surplus Property to eligible public and non-profit organizations within the State of Nebraska.

The structured requirements of the operation include screening of the property all over the nation; transfer of the property to Nebraska; administration of the property and marketing and placement of the property within the state.

There are three operational areas of the Department which report directly to the Director: Legal Services, Personnel Management/Staff Training, and Security Coordination.

Legal Services

The Department's Legal Division is responsible for supervising the following Department functions: Contracts, real estate, promulgation of rules and regulations, inmate grievances and disciplinary appeals, legislation, representation of the Department interests in administrative proceedings, and responses to inquiries from judges, attorneys, and the State Ombudsman.

During this fiscal year, the Legal Division began to handle the defense of a small number of civil rights and habeas corpus actions assigned to the Division by the Nebraska Attorney General. Department Rules were revised by the legal staff in May 1987 to facilitate the certification of the Department's inmate grievance procedure by the U.S. Department of Justice. The number of inmate grievances appealed to the Director's level of review during the past year totaled 582. Appeals of inmate disciplinary actions to the central office Appeals Board numbered 666 and 80 claims involving Department functions were filed with the State Claims Board. Sixteen hearings were conducted by the State Personnel Board involving the Department as the Respondent.

Personnel Management/Staff Training

Personnel

The Personnel Section provides human resources management for the Department. The Administrator's Office handles all labor relations activities, including discipline and grievance administration, negotiations with two labor organizations, promulgation of Department personnel policies, and also provides technical assistance to the facilities/centers/programs. Classification, staffing monitoring, affirmative action, wellness programming, research, and management systems applications are handled by the Special Projects Office. The Employee Office offers employment services in recruiting, screening, selection and hiring, employee orientation and processing. Payroll and personnel records are handled by the NEIS coordinator and updates to the information system are actively being sought to offer more management information to the State's management team. Expansion of the management information system for personnel services and, as the result of recent legislation, expanded labor relations are areas to be dealt with in the future.

Training

All new employees receive a minimum of 40 hours of orientation/training prior to job assignment. Additional hours per year vary from 16 to 120, depending upon the employee's classification, years of service, and contact with inmates. Classroom training to meet these requirements are delivered by the Staff Training Academy in Lincoln and/or by staff at each facility. On-the-job training (OJT) is conducted by each supervisor. During this fiscal year, 1,268 full and part-time employees received a total of 81,475.2 hours of training, with OJT hours accounting for 29,717.6 (36.5%) of that total.

Toward the close of the fiscal year, Staff Training was placed under the supervision of the Personnel Section, thus yoking the two sections which provide specialized employee services.

Security Coordination

The development, coordination, and training of the Department's Emergency Response Teams (REACT) and Hostage Negotiation Team are the responsibility of this office. Other major duties include the development and coordination of regulations, policies and procedures pertaining to security and custody operations, facility/center/program security audits, internal affairs investigations involving staff and/or inmates, and the supervision of the Special Services Unit.

The Special Services Unit issues warrants for the Department's escapees and parole violators and makes the necessary arrangements for their return when apprehended. Adult and juvenile inter-institution transportation is handled by the Unit and assistance is also provided to local county governments with prisoner transportation. Special Services also handles the interstate and intrastate Detainer Compact Agreements. During this fiscal year, the Special Services Unit transported 968 adults and juveniles for the Department (primarily inter-institution transfers) and 387 prisoners for other governmental agencies, traveling 122,598 vehicle miles and 50,837 air miles.

DIVISION OF ADULT SERVICES

*Reports to the Deputy Director

DIVISION OF ADULT SERVICES

Organized under Section 83-939, Neb. Rev. Stat. (Reissue 1976), the Division of Adult Services exists to administer and supervise the state's adult correctional facilities. All adult female inmates are received at the Nebraska Center for Women, where they are evaluated and subsequently assigned to programs and work at that facility. All adult male inmates are received at the Lincoln Correctional Center's Evaluation Unit, where screening and evaluation are performed and a mental health unit is maintained for special adjustment cases. Upon completion of evaluation, inmates are assigned to an appropriate adult facility/center, and are placed in program and/or work assignments at the respective facilities. Release from any of the adult institutions is via parole, placement in work/education release programs, or expiration of sentence. The remaining statutory responsibilities of the Division of Adult Services include assisting the Division of Community Centered Services with work release, education release, and furlough programs; establishment and maintenance of a Chemical Dependency Program; and development, coordination, and implementation of volunteer programs at the adult facilities.

The adult facilities all provide custodial care for the inmates placed with us by the courts. The Lincoln Correctional Center's Evaluation Unit is a maximum security, special purpose facility with its central function being the reception of new male inmates. The Nebraska State Penitentiary is for the care, custody and program needs of older, multiple offender male inmates in a variety of custody levels. The Lincoln Correctional Center provides these services for younger, first time male inmates in a variety of custody levels. The Omaha Correctional Center and Hastings Correctional Center handles minimum/community custody level inmates who are close to the end of their sentences. The Nebraska Center for Women serves all female inmates in a variety of custody and program levels.

Nebraska State Penitentiary

Operating on the same site since 1869, the Nebraska State Penitentiary stood as the only adult facility until the early 1920's, when the Nebraska Center for Women was opened (1920) and the Men's Reformatory was established (1921). Renovation of the Penitentiary was completed during the spring of 1982, with the demolition of the old cellblocks, administration building, and kitchen. The new physical plant, operational since 1982, includes four modular housing units, an administrative complex, and a central utility plant.

Facility responsibility rests with the Warden, who is assisted by a Deputy Warden and two Associate Wardens.

Hastings Correctional Center

The Hastings Correctional Center is granted in the passage of LB 449 in March of 1987. The facility is located in Building #25 on the southeast corner of the Hastings Regional Center campus. The Center, which received its first inmates in June of 1987, is undergoing massive renovation, much of which is accomplished by utilizing resident inmate labor. Upon completion in December of 1987, the facility will house 160 minimum and community security beds arranged in quadrant style, open dormitory settings.

Besides the renovation, inmate work programs include work details on the Regional Center campus, the local community, and neighboring towns, as well as offering educational release opportunities in the Hastings area.

Over sixty percent (60%) of the current residents were committed from counties in the south central section of Nebraska, serving a twofold advantage: (1) providing relief for overcrowded adult male facilities in eastern Nebraska while at the same time, (2) placing the majority of its inmate population in closer proximity to family contact.

Responsibility for the facility rests with the Superintendent and one Assistant Superintendent.

Lincoln Correctional Center

Provided for by the 1975 Legislature, the former Lincoln Correctional Center and the former Diagnostic and Evaluation Center were opened in August 1979 as, respectively, a medium security institution and a maximum security institution. In July 1986 the two facilities were administratively combined into a single institution called the Lincoln Correctional Center. The combined facility has a single cell capacity of 468 inmates and serves a variety of functions for the Department.

The Evaluation Unit of the Lincoln Correctional Center provides reception, diagnostic, evaluation, classification, and assignment services to all adult male felons received from the State of Nebraska District Court System. In addition, through written and verbal presentation, an orientation program is maintained to facilitate the best possible kind of integration into institutional life. Continuing service is also provided to the State District Courts as they request evaluation assistance in felony cases prior to determination as provided for in Chapter 38, Section 1105, Statutes of Nebraska. The Evaluation Unit also has a 48-bed protective custody unit which serves all the adult male facilities.

The balance of the facility consists of five housing units which contain maximum and medium custody inmates and include a number of special populations. One-half of a housing unit serves as the in-patient mental health unit for adult males in the Department. Another housing unit contains the Department's in-patient programs for sex offenders and for chemically dependent inmates. The remaining three and one-half units house general population inmates who are mostly involved in academic and vocational training programs and institutional maintenance and work programs.

Responsibility for the management of the institution resides with the Warden, assisted by a Deputy Warden and two Associate Wardens.

Omaha Correctional Center

The Omaha Correctional Center was created in 1975 by LB 417, which provided for a medium-minimum security facility to be located in Douglas County. The Center, which opened on April 24, 1984, on a 33-acre site in East Omaha, was designed to house 240 inmates. On July 1, 1987, the Center assumed management responsibility for the Work Release Unit. The total operating capacity is now 400.

Organization at the facility includes a Superintendent and three Associate Superintendents.

Nebraska Center For Women

The Nebraska Center for Women is classified as a minimum security institution, although it provides any type of security necessary for handling Nebraska female inmates, including orientation inmates and females who require administrative segregation. The classification system provides three levels of supervision with commensurate privileges, beginning with a 30-day reception period that requires much supervision and a few privileges, progressing to regular programming in the general population based on individualized plans, and ending with honor status. A minimum of four to six months is required to reach the third level.

The facility is under the direction of a Superintendent and two Assistant Superintendents.

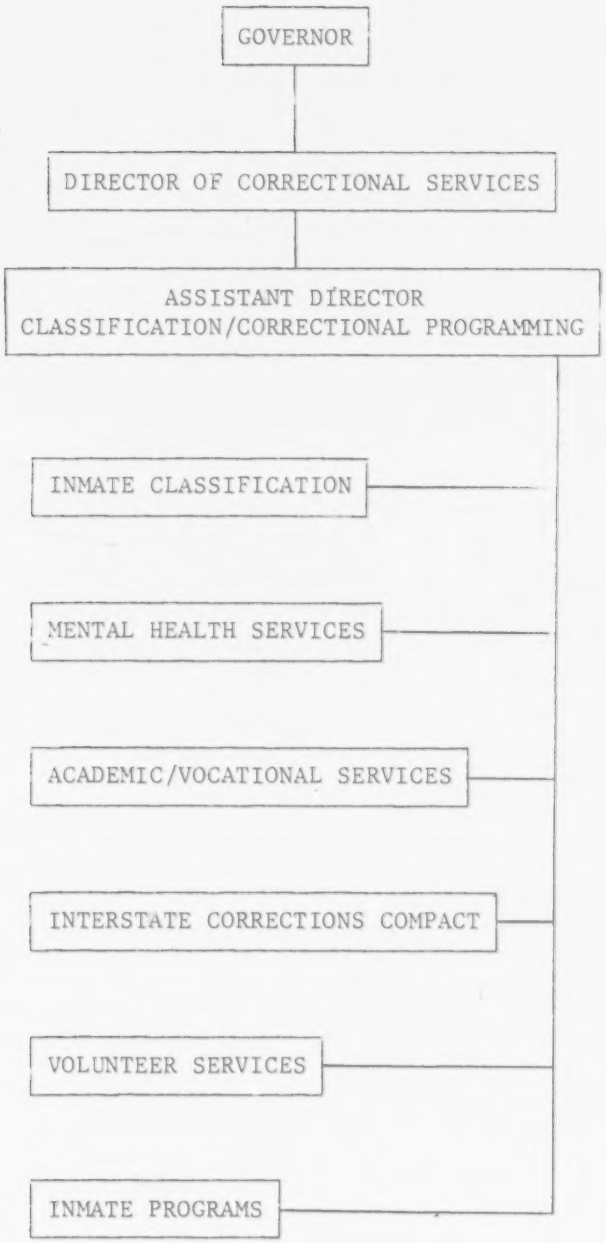
CLASSIFICATION AND CORRECTIONAL PROGRAMMING



CLASSIFICATION AND CORRECTIONAL PROGRAMMING

Established by the Director of the Department of Correctional Services, Classification and Correctional Programming supervises the Department's adult inmate classification system and various support programs for both adult and juvenile divisions.

As illustrated on the organization chart, the section is organized into six functional areas: Inmate Classification, Mental Health Services, Academic/Vocational Education, Interstate Corrections Compact, Volunteer Services, and Inmate Programs.

Inmate Classification

Inmate Classification is a systematic process of coordinating inmate assessment and assignment procedures with available resources. It utilizes a procedure of identifying factors of an inmate's potential and level of functioning to determine his/her individual security and supervision needs. Specifically, it seeks to:

A. Assign each inmate to the least restrictive environment appropriate to maintain the public's confidence and safety.

B. Facilitate the timely movement of inmates through the correctional system.

C. Provide for the assignment, continuation and removal of inmates from administrative segregation status.

D. Identify inmate needs and recommend program involvement which will assist in meeting those needs, and

E. Assure the most difficult classification decisions are made at the highest level of authority within the Department.

Mental Health Services

Mental Health Services for adult incarcerants is headed by a certified clinical psychologist. It is responsible for providing psychological and substance abuse counseling and intervention for those adult inmates identified as needing mental health services. Organizationally, it operates four distinct inpatient programs, located within the Lincoln Correctional Center and provides outpatient services in each of the other adult institutions, as well as provides crisis intervention and ongoing evaluation services. Psychiatric services are provided by contract with several psychiatrists from the community; severe mentally ill inmates and inmates found to be treatable, mentally disordered sex offenders are transferred to the Lincoln Regional Center for intense inpatient treatment.

Academic/Vocational Services

The academic and vocational education section is headed by the Department's educational coordinator, who is responsible for planning, development and providing assistance in the operation of the academic and vocational education and pre-release programming within the Department. The Department operates its own approved schools in its two juvenile facilities and the adult female institution. Lincoln-based institutions receive educational services through contractual arrangements with Southeast Community College Corrections Division, while Metropolitan Technical Community College is under contract with the Department to provide educational services at the Omaha institution.

Academic programs available include ABE/GED studies and college transfer programs for adults, and high school, independent living courses, and Chapter I (reading and math) for juveniles. The vocational education programs range from business/clerical, horticulture, building and industrial maintenance, computer programming, culinary arts, welding, auto body, auto mechanics, heating/air conditioning/small appliances, machine tool and industrial housekeeping for adults, to building trades, welding/metals, auto mechanics and auto body, word processing and computers for juveniles.

During FY 86-87, a total of 205 students were served at the schools operated at the two Youth Development Centers. The schools are fully accredited and approved by the State Department of Education. At the adult facilities/centers/programs, over 200 earned their GED certificates, 225 participated in pre-release programming, 125 received vocational educational certificates and two earned Associate of Arts degrees.

Interstate Corrections Compact

In accordance with Nebraska Statutes, R.S. Supp., 1974, Chapter 29, Article 34 and the Interstate Corrections Compact Act, the Department has entered into contracts with several states in order to provide inmates the opportunity to request a transfer to another state. The Interstate Corrections Compact Administrator, under the supervision of the Assistant Director for Classification and Programs, coordinates and documents all actions undertaken under the provisions of the Compact. Inmates are given consideration for transfer to: Enable an inmate to be closer to and maintain family ties; allow an inmate to concurrently serve sentences; provide for the greater immediate personal safety of an inmate; provide greater institutional security, custody and control; and provide specialized programs for treatment and rehabilitation not otherwise available.

During FY 86-87, an average of 27 inmates were housed in other states and 26 inmates from other states were housed by Nebraska. During this time period, eleven Nebraska inmates were transferred out-of-state and six were accepted from other states.

Volunteer Services

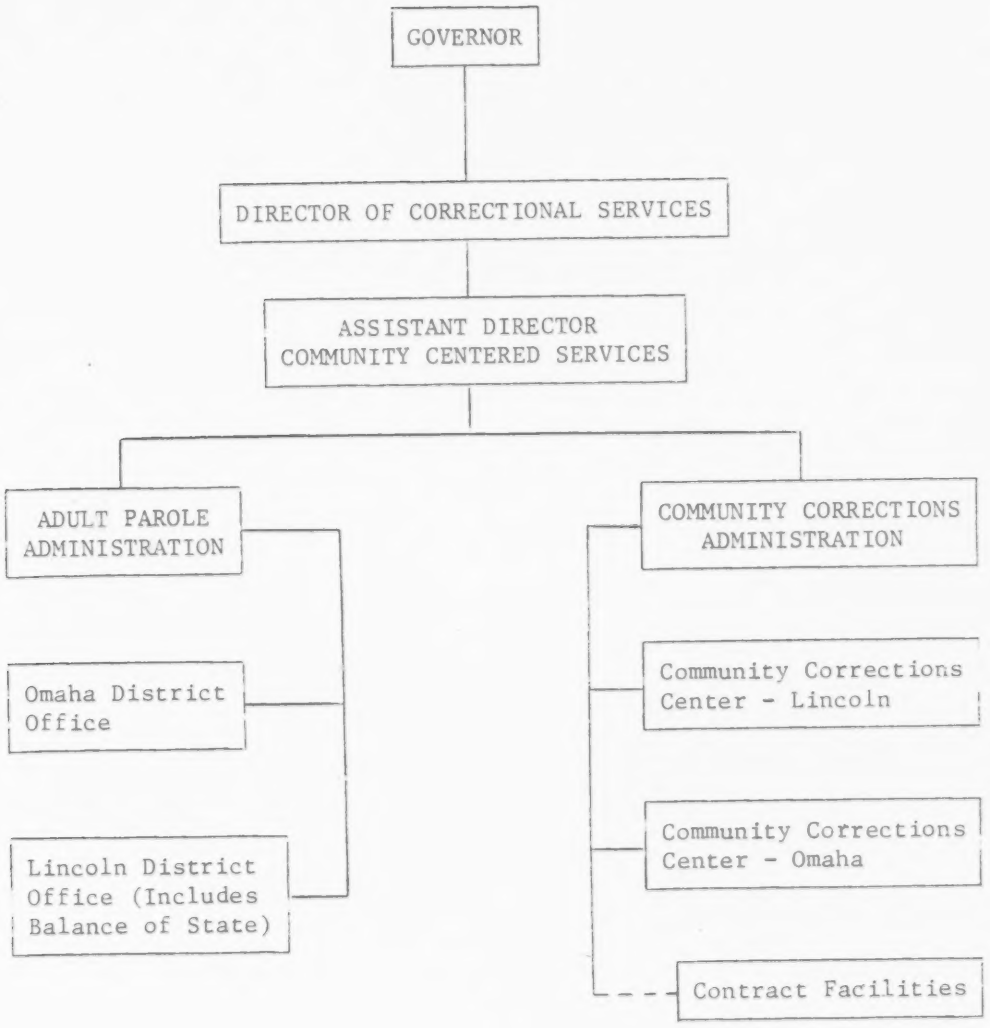
Citizen involvement through volunteerism generates a variety of services for inmates in all facilities and programs, including, but not limited to, alcohol/drug treatment, mental health services, education, religious activities, athletics and recreation, and self-betterment groups. In addition, volunteers provide counseling, transportation, and employment assistance to inmates, as well as clerical and office assistance to staff. Each facility/program has a designated staff member responsible for recruiting, training, and the overall coordination of volunteer programs within his/her respective facility/center/program. The Central Office Volunteer Services Coordinator has overall departmental responsibility for the Volunteer Services Program and for chairing the Volunteer Services Committee, comprised of facility/program coordinators and volunteers, and to ensure that appropriate policy and procedure is followed.

Over 800 community individuals volunteered their time and energy at the adult and juvenile facilities/centers/programs during this past fiscal year. Alcoholics Anonymous, recreation/athletics/leisure time activities, and religious programs were the areas attracting the most volunteers.

Inmate Programs

Direct supervision of various inmate programs is the responsibility of the individual institution's administration. The Division of Classification and Correctional Programming functions in a coordinating role, in an effort to ensure consistent programming activities for inmates in the various institutions. Currently, inmate programs include religious services, recreational services, self-betterment clubs and cultural organizations.

DIVISION OF COMMUNITY CENTERED SERVICES



NOTE: The facilities/centers/ programs of the Division of Community Centered Services have been reassigned.

Community Corrections Administration

The Community Corrections Administration, previously known as the Post Care Program, was established in October, 1967 (Reissue Revised Statute 83-184, 1943) in order to allow a select group of adult inmates to be employed in the community or attend an educational or training program not available within the confines of the institution. Those inmates initially participating in the program were housed in the institution during non-working hours. In 1971, a community residential program was established and female inmates were included in the program in 1974.

Two Community Corrections Centers are operated by the Administration and are located in Lincoln and Omaha, both housing male and female inmates. The facilities provide such services as transportation to/from work or school, employment and educational counseling and placement, and individual/group counseling opportunities. Food service, general housekeeping and maintenance are provided by inmates assigned to an in-house detail crew and supervised by Center staff.

Participation in Community Corrections programming is not a requirement for placement on parole or for release on discharge from the institutions. The Program is strictly voluntary and placement becomes a part of the individuals' personalized plan. This plan provides a structured program designed to facilitate transition from institutional living to community residence and to enhance the person's success on parole and after discharge.

In June 1987, the Community Corrections Administration central office operation, which had provided administrative direction, supervision, support and coordination to and for the field facilities, was dissolved, with the administrative staff of four reassigned within the Department. The Community Corrections Center-Lincoln was reorganized and became an independent community residential facility with some support services necessarily provided by the Department's central office personnel and accounting sections. This facility is now a part of the Division of Adult Services. The Community Corrections Center-Omaha was also reorganized and placed under the operation of the Omaha Correctional Center. Both facilities have implemented the unit management concept in providing programming services.

Neither community facility has a perimeter fence nor is physically attached to any penal institution. The Lincoln Center is a self-contained facility, providing food service, general maintenance, and housekeeping. The Omaha Center is also self-contained, however, it shares some mutually utilized services with the Omaha Correctional Center. Both facilities are in full operation 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

Adult Parole Administration

Parole Administration was established by Legislative action on August 23, 1969. The mission of the Adult Parole Administration is to protect the public and provide supervision and assistance to enable the paroled inmate to become a productive and law-abiding citizen.

Under the direction of the Administrator, Adult Parole is responsible for providing statewide parole services in the community for all inmates paroled from Nebraska's adult correctional institutions, and for those inmates from other states who have been transferred under the Interstate Compact for the supervision of parolees and probationers. District parole offices are maintained in Omaha and Lincoln, with individual regional offices located in Norfolk and North Platte, Nebraska.

Implemented in December 1986, the Extended Leave Program (ELP) was a collaboration between the Nebraska Board of Parole and the Department's Adult Parole Administration, Community Corrections Administration, and Classification and Correctional Programming section. This Program allows certain inmates who are on work or educational release to make application to be allowed to reside at an approved private residence with immediate family member(s). To be eligible to apply for participation, the inmate must:

1) Be successfully participating in a work or educational release program or detail program;

2) Have a stable residence;

3) Be within six months of parole release and have a hearing date established by the Board of Parole, or be within six months of discharge and have a tentative release date established that is equal or prior to his/her parole eligibility date; and,

4) Have a stable, verifiable work and/or educational release program in the community or present reasonable assurance that such programming can be developed in a timely manner.

Inmates are approved for participation in this Program by the Board of Parole and the Director of the Department of Correctional Services. The ELP inmates are still accountable to all the applicable rules, regulations, policies and procedures of the Department. Field supervision of these inmates is handled by the Adult Parole Administration staff.

Due to reorganization of the Division of Community Centered Services in June of 1987, the Adult Parole Administration was placed under the supervision of the Assistant Director of Classification and Correctional Programming.

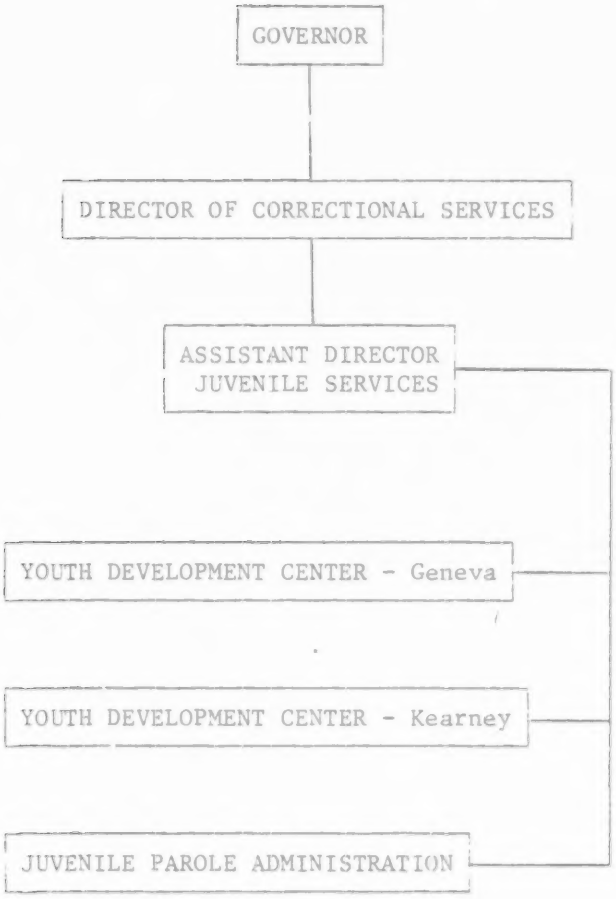
DIVISION OF JUVENILE SERVICES



DIVISION OF JUVENILE SERVICES

The Nebraska State Statute 83-922 provided authority for the Department of Correctional Services to fulfill the functions of state government relating to the care, custody, discipline, training and treatment of persons in correctional and detention institutions. This Statute also established separate divisions within the Department, of which the Division of Juvenile Services is one. Juvenile Services, organized under Sections 83-935 through 83-930 inclusive, Nebraska Revised Statutes (Reissue 1976), and headed by an Assistant Director, exists to administer and supervise the State's juvenile correctional facilities and programs, specifically the Youth Development Centers (YDC) in Geneva (females) and Kearney (males) and the Juvenile Parole Administration.

The mission of the Division is to provide services and programs enabling the juvenile offender to develop the skills necessary to return to the community as a responsible, law-abiding individual.

Youth Development Center - Kearney

First established by the Legislature in 1879, "The Nebraska State Reform School for Juvenile Offenders" accepted its first offender on July 15, 1881. According to Nebraska Reissue Revised Statutes (1943, 83-463 - 474), the purpose of the Center is to provide for the retention, education, discipline, industrial training and reformation of male juvenile offenders.

Youth Development Center - Geneva

The Youth Development Center-Geneva was established by a Legislative act on March 4, 1891. The Center receives females who have been adjudicated as delinquent by the various courts for the state. In addition to the regular commitments, Geneva also provides predisposition evaluations (male and females) for the courts and detention on an immediate, short-term basis. The YDC-Geneva program is designed to meet the needs of each student under a plan which includes: 1) An individual profile with psychological testing and evaluation; 2) testing and placement; and 3) a developmental appraisal to determine attitudes, thought processes and awareness. The primary goal is to bring about a self-development program for each student that provides a satisfactory and productive life with no further delinquency involvement.

Juvenile Parole Administration

The Juvenile Parole Administration was created by the Director of Correctional Services in April, 1979. This move separated Juvenile Parole from Adult Parole and enabled Juvenile Parole Administration to be more effective in serving and supervising the juveniles in their care.

The Juvenile Parole Administration is responsible for the supervision, custody and control of all juvenile persons paroled from juvenile institutions. This Administration is also given the responsibility for the supervision of those juvenile parolees and probationers who qualify for placement in the State of Nebraska under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Compact on Juveniles. In addition, it is the responsibility of the Juvenile Parole Administration to supervise a limited number of juvenile probationers committed to the Department of Correctional Services by order of Nebraska Juvenile Courts for placement in foster homes.

The Juvenile Parole Administration became accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections for the second time on August 19, 1984, thus becoming the first juvenile parole agency in the United States to be accredited for the second time.
